and another officer not below the rank of Deputy Secretary to the State Govem-ment, which was subsequently withdrawn on the advice that the proposal would in effect mean a fusion of executive and judicial powers which would defeat the purpose of judicial process. A fresh proposal has recently been received from the State Government suggesting that the Tribunal may comprise of a Judicial Officer of the rank of District Judge, ome Departmental Officer and one non-otficial meniber with legal background. The State Government have stated that this is in keeping with the anology of the Saks Tax Tribunal and would protect the interest of the Department. However, it has been held that this proposal is not on the same anology as that of the Sales Tax Appellate Tribunal and this position has been brought to the notice of the State Government.
